Airmen Appreciate Annual Picnic--

Larger Crowd Than Ever Before Enjoys Air Force-Sedalia Meet

The picnic sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for the men at the Sedalia Air Force Base Tuesday night was one of the happiest events of the year. The crowd was estimated to exceed the 1,200 at the first annual picnic last year, and tables were loaded with fried chicken, salads, baked beans, cakes and pies.

Remarks heard by some of the men from the Air Base were gratifying and the Good Will committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Mrs. Anna Bagby is chairman, felt it had really accomplished what it set out to do.

"I never tasted such wonderful food," commented a mess sergeant to one of the Chamber of Commerce men who took him back to town. Another airman with him agreed.

Mrs. Frank Wagner, chairman of the food and hostess committee, and the women working with her did a grand job of serving, getting the lines through quickly, and when they were served there were plenty of tables for everybody to sit down and eat. Along the rows of iced soft drinks stood Jack Cunningham, chairman, and his committee of men smilingly opening bottles and handing them out to all who came. All of the soft drinks were donated by the local beverage distributing companies. The two dairies were there, to, and everyone, particularly the children, enjoyed the milk furnished by the local dairies. An ice cream company furnished ice cream. Nothing was missed as far as food was concerned; there was plenty of everything.

A number of out-of-town people visiting relatives and friends here were at the picnic and were enjoying the gathering to the fullest as were the Sedalians themselves.

During the supper hour and later music was furnished by a group of Sedalia musicians. They were Bob Cummings, trumpet; Bill Jesse, tenor saxophone; George Young, piano; Bob Garrett, drums; Jack Frigosa, bass; Dr. D. H. Robinson, trombone, and Lyle Estes, tenor saxophone. The music was a bright spot in the picnic and the benches around the band shell were soon filled after the supper to listen to the music. Delighting the audience was the extra show put on by the miniature drummer, Allen McClure (Mac) Young, six-year-old son of George Young, the piano player. Mac surrounded himself with chairs in place of the drums he didn't have and with his drumsticks played right along with the orchestra, never losing a beat, keeping the rhythm, and his chair music could be heard out in the audience. He had typical actions of drummer, too, going from chair to chair with his sticks and smiling all the time at the crowd. When he finally tired of his job with the orchestra he left the stage to go ride on the little train, and as he left he was rather puzzled at the round of applause he received.

The picnic supper was preceded by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and invocation by Chaplain C. T. Campbell of the Sedalia Air Force Base.

Following the supper a program was presented, with James T. Denny, general chairman, serving as toastmaster. It opened with the singing of "Home on the Range."

Introduced by Denny was K. U. Love, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, who stated that all citizens of Sedalia and the Chamber of Commerce believe in the good neighbor policy and feel that friendship with the people at the base leads to better cooperation. He stressed that the Air Base people are always welcome in Sedalia.

Col. A. J. Beck, wing commander at the base, was then introduced and answered the Chamber of Commerce president with: "Everyone at the Air Base thinks you are really wonderful."

Mayor Julian Bagby welcomed the Air Force men and their families and expressed the hope they would all be back next year.

Col. Charles V. Neil, base commander, stated this was a fine example of cooperation and they were looking forward to more.

In honor of Col. Beck and Col. Neil, the master of ceremonies then asked "Eyes of Texas" be sung by this group honoring the two colonels from Texas.

Denny then introduced Col. Edward G. Cada, who spoke a few words, and Mrs. Anna Bagby. Mrs. Bagby stated the Sedalians want to be friends with the men and their families from the base and thanked the chairmen of the various committees for their help: James T. Denny, Mrs. Frank Wagner, James Van Wagner, Jr., Maurice Hogan, Jack Cunningham, Merle Vaughan, Jack Delph, Chief of Police Ed Neighbors, L. R. Black, Dr. D. R. Robinson, Jack Faber, Mrs. Ike L. Warren, Miss Clarice Mettler of Sedalia and also Capt. John Herbst of the Air Base and Second Lt. J. J. McCardie who assisted in planning the picnic.

The group then sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Planes, Men Leave 'Diane' For SFB

First Plane Lands Here on Tuesday Evening, 9:18 p.m.

Twenty-five B-47 Stratojets and KC-97 tankers of the Strategic Air Command's 308th Bomb Wing at Hunter AFB, Savannah, Ga., evacuated to Sedalia Air Force Base last night as Hurricane Diane threatened the southern Atlantic coast.

The wing was alerted for the inland move yesterday afternoon as the hurricane was reported to be approximately 500 miles east of St. Augustine, Fla. "Diane," with gales as high as 115 miles per hour near its heart, was moving at 15 miles per hour toward the coast of South Carolina at that time.

Most of the 308th Bomb Wing crews had left the Savannah base for the day when the alert was sounded. But they were prepared since only a week ago they were forced to evacuate to an inland base when Hurricane "Connie" threatened the coast.

The first aircraft left the runways at Hunter shortly after seven in the evening, just two hours after the alert had been sounded. The first plane arrived at Sedalia AFB at 9:18 p.m. and hurried arrangements were made for parking the aircraft and housing the tired crews that arrived throughout the night.

Some of the aircraft were diverted to Smoky Hill AFB, Salina, Kan., to wait out the storm.

Lt. Col. John Harvey, commander of the 374th Bomb Squadron and task force commander, brought the first of the swept wing B-47s in from Hunter. He and many of his officers and those of Sedalia AFB worked throughout the night accounting for the planes and crews and arranging for parking the aircraft and bunking the 140 airmen and 100 officers in the task force.

The planes were parked along taxiways and ramps of the base. Beds were set up in various dormitories.

Col. Harvey said that "the cooperation of the Sedalia personnel was superior." He said the squadrons went out of their way to find beds for his men and to make their facilities available to them.

The outbreak came less than 24 hours after a shaky two-month truce between the Catholic Church and Argentina's dominant Peronist party apparently ended. The Catholic Church is the state church in this country.

The Radical party, chief opposition group to President Peron's regime, introduced a bill in Congress demanding that the government "remove any barrier" to the return of two Catholic prelates expelled to Rome by the government June 15.

The prelates, Bishop Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Novoa, were stripped of their government-paid duties on charges of inciting disorders. This was followed by the Vatican's excommunication of Peron and others who had any part in the expulsion. The day after the prelates left an unsuccessful revolt against Peron broke out.

Parliament unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday calling for the withdrawal of foreign troops after 56 years of occupation. Under the British-Egyptian agreement of 1933, the forces—1,000 or so Britons and about 600 Egyptians—are to be out within 90 days of adoption of the resolution.

Withdrawing of British and Egyptian troops from the Sudan within three months was set today as the next step on the timetable for Sudanese self-determination.

The group then sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Despite Danger of Death--

Another Mass of Indians Trudge Toward Goa's Riotous Frontier

BELGAUM, India (AP)—Eight hundred determined Indian Nationalists who missed the "peaceful invasion" of Portuguese India Monday trudged today toward the Goa frontier.

They wanted to enter the colony despite the 15 or more killed in Monday's march.

The marchers had covered 40 miles late today and had another 30 miles to go before reaching the border of the Portuguese enclave.

New Rioting Erupts After Catholic Mass

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—New disorders broke out today in front of the Roman Catholic Metropolitan Cathedral on Plaza de Mayo in central Buenos Aires. Police used fire hoses to break up a demonstration. Several persons were reported arrested.

Witnesses said the disorders erupted as Catholics emerging from Mass in the cathedral began shouting antigovernment slogans and were met by an antagonistic group.

Fighting ranged from the cathedral a block to Avenida Diagonal Norte, then down fashionable Florida street. Florida was covered with water from the fire hoses for three blocks. A plate glass window in a swank curio shop was smashed but there were no reports of personal injuries.

The outbreak came less than 24 hours after a shaky two-month truce between the Catholic Church and Argentina's dominant Peronist party apparently ended. The Catholic Church is the state church in this country.

Storm Loses Force Quickly, Once On Land

Beach Areas Take Heavy Drenching; Streets Submerged

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Hurricane Diane, churning menacingly eight days up from the tropics, hit the North Carolina coast today but did relatively little damage.

She pushed into central North Carolina with falling force. The Weather Bureau said she would have 60-mile-an-hour winds by the time she reached the Raleigh-Durham area. Her route, northward, would carry her on into Virginia tonight.

The office of North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges said scattered and "very preliminary" reports indicated damage along the beaches was "almost miraculously light."

This fourth hurricane of the season made her central landfall at this southeastern North Carolina river port. Her force was blunted as she moved on a northwesterward course over land toward northwestern Virginia.

Even before Diane came to the mainland her one-time 115-mile-an-hour core winds had fallen to gusts of 100. Maximum winds clocked here were 74 m.p.h.

Diane invaded the land only five days after Hurricane Connie had sideswiped northeastern South Carolina, invaded this area and blown out in Pennsylvania. Connie took 43 lives and wrought damage estimated in the millions.

Diane's center passed Wilmington at 5:20 a.m. Nearby beaches suffered heavy soakings. Many beach areas of both Carolinas had been evacuated yesterday.

The Weather Bureau said the storm would move into northwestern Virginia early tomorrow with winds abated to 20 to 30 miles an hour.

At Carolina Beach, N. C., on a peninsula south of Wilmington, waves washed away several feet of the beach and pounded the buildings in the boardwalk area. Water flooded streets and washed across from the ocean to the yacht basin. But observers said the damage there was not as serious as that caused by Connie.

At Atlantic Beach, to the north, many houses were seriously damaged by waves.

Property Owners Must Cut Weeds and Grass

Sedalia property owners have been quite diligent in cutting or getting cut the high weeds and grass on vacant lots and unoccupied property. According to Charles Simon, city sanitation officer, two men have been kept busy for the past two or three months, answering calls from citizens who wish to pay the city to have their weeds cut.

There are some owners, however, who have failed to comply with this city ordinance. If the owners do not take care of the weeds, the city can either have them cut or have the street and alley department dispose of them, adding the cost to the owner's tax bill.

With the heat, and added boost of the rain about ten days ago, wild weeds can grow rapidly and hide filth, breed disease, and throw off pollen and the hay fever season is drawing near.

Believe Attacks Inspired by Peron

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman said today Argentines believe President Juan Peron and not the Communists inspired physical attacks on Roman Catholic churches in June.

Cardinal Spellman, returning from a 39-day trip to Latin American countries, not including Argentina, told newsmen the attacks were "very definitely organized."

No Shots Fired--

Nebraska Prison Riot Halted Easily After Cool Warning

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A 12-hour prison rebellion at the Nebraska State Penitentiary collapsed today when armed troopers and National Guardsmen marched into the cell block with orders to shoot to kill if necessary. No shots were fired.

Gov. Victor Anderson said about 225 prisoners, who had set fire to six prison shops and spent the night smashing furniture and equipment in their cell block, offered "no difficulty at all" after Warden Joseph Bovey told them at 6 a.m. to be back in their cells within two minutes or the troopers would shoot.

When the troopers and guardsmen marched in to the cell block they found all prisoners within their cells. Newsmen waiting outside the walls heard a noise that sounded to them like a gun shot, but Gov. Anderson told them that was the automatic cell doors being shut.

Three convicts were injured during the rebellion which started just after supper last night. Two were slugged over the head last night by other inmates, and when officers entered the cell block this morning they found a third convict, his face and shirt covered with blood, curled up in the back of a cell.

No guards were injured. The governor attributed this to Warden Bovey's move in withdrawing the unarmed guards from the prison yards yesterday when he got the tip-off to the impending outbreak — demands from a group of convicts that two men who had been placed in segregation yesterday be released.

This was Nebraska's second prison rebellion this year. Last March eight prisoners seized two guards and holed up in the security building for 3½ days before they were starved out.

Gov. Anderson said he believed the fire had caused at least $10,000 damage but others said they would estimate it at possibly up to a quarter of a million dollars.

The governor said he had been informed the riot had started over a feeling by some prisoners that two of their number had been mistreated by being placed in segregation "for failure to work."

It was the second riot in U.S. prisons in recent days. There was

Strike Ends After Copper Pay Approval

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Employees of the Kennecott Copper Corp. started back to work today in four states, ending a costly 47-day-old strike.

A joint union council last night instructed the men to return after agreement was reached with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers at Ray, Ariz. Kennecott spokesmen said full-scale production would resume as soon as maintenance work neglected during the strike had been polished off. They said all the 11,000 employees in Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona are expected back by the end of the week.

Utah workers agreed on settlement terms, including a 15½ cent-an-hour wage and pension package, last Friday. New Mexico and Nevada workers later accepted the same offer.

Agreement in Arizona was blocked by a bargaining dispute between the independent Mine-Mill union and the CIO United Steelworkers. The steelworkers have asked the National Labor Relations Board for a collective bargaining election. The board's decision has not been announced.

Kennecott officials said the agreement would not become a formal settlement unless Mine-Mill was certified as the bargaining unit for Ray workers.

A. C. Skinner, secretary of the joint union council, said the Ray Mine-Mill local ratified the agreement late last night by a "substantial margin." Terms were the same as in the other three states, Skinner said.

Union members in Utah, Nevada and New Mexico had refused to return to work until an agreement was reached in Arizona.

The new pay scale ranges from $13.83 to $20.39.

Adm. Burke Takes Navy Command

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Command of the Navy passes from Adm. Robert B. Carney to Adm. Arleigh A. Burke today amidst ceremonial honors never before accorded a new chief of naval operations.

The program at the Naval Academy provided a parade of midshipmen and, for both Carney and Burke, 17-gun salutes impossible in Washington office buildings where all previous CNOs have been sworn in since the office was created in 1915.

The threat of Hurricane Diane moved the ceremony from the deck of an aircraft carrier in Norfolk, Va., where it had been planned, to the steps of the academy dormitory Burke left as a midshipman 32 years ago.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas in a prepared speech called the occasion significant because it emphasizes the paramount importance of the fleet and the seagoing sailors who man it. Both Carney and Burke distinguished themselves as "seagoing, fighting men," he said.

Thomas said the Navy is moving "closer and even more rapidly toward nuclear propulsion for all ships," and to a "still greater use of atomic weapons, missiles and jet aircraft."

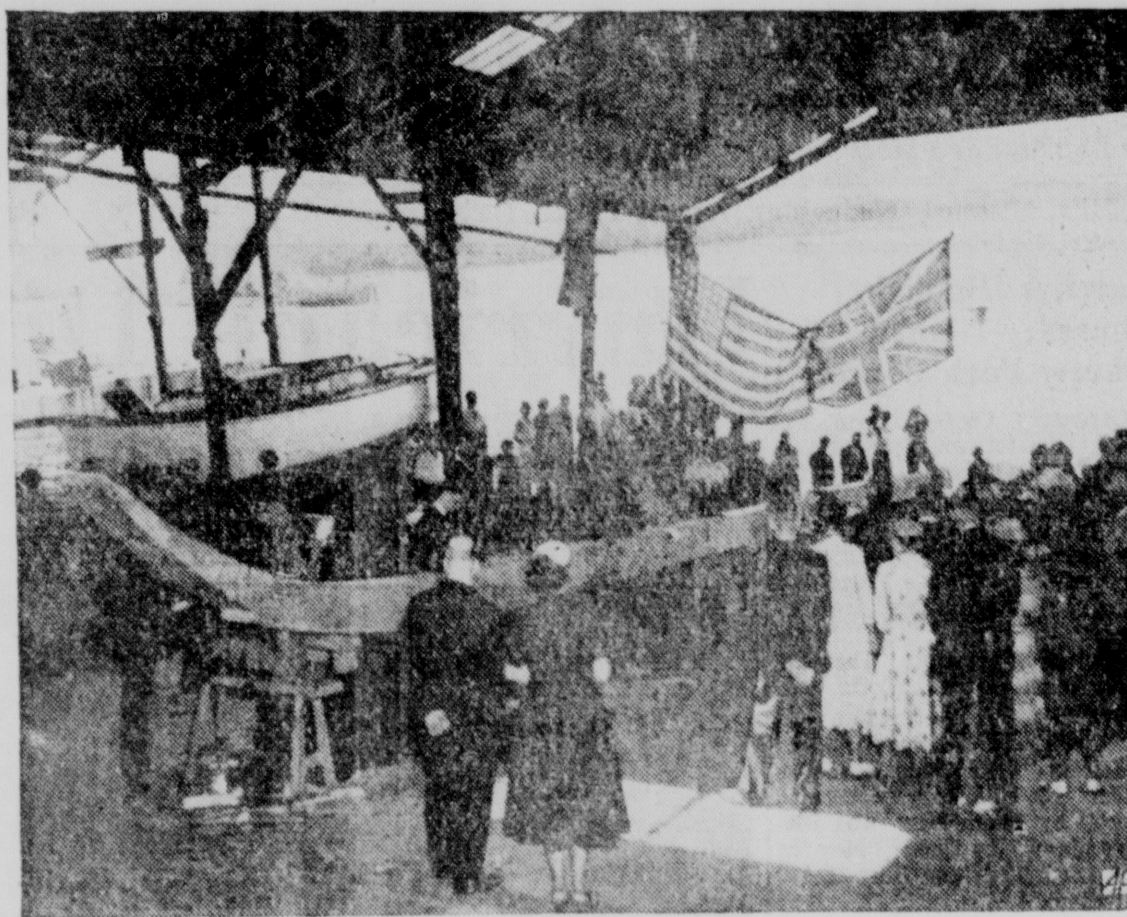

He praised Carney as "one of the principal architects of victory in the Pacific" in World War II and spoke of the "equally brilliant career" of Burke, who was chosen for the job over 92 of his available seniors.

Burke won fame in World War II as commander of the "Little Beaver" destroyer squadron in the South Pacific. Adm. William Halsey nicknamed him "31-Knot Burke" for steaming through a group of American ships to attack an enemy-held island point. At 53, he becomes one of the youngest men to be named to the top post. Carney is 60.

Evicted From Room For Wearing 'Shortie'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ellen Williams, 31, says she has been ordered to vacate a housing authority apartment after paying her rent while wearing a "shortie."

She said yesterday the bed jacket and bloomers are "a hideous looking outfit, I admit, but it's not indecent. When I was told about it, I never wore it again. You ought to see some of these women in shorts and halters."

Officials of the Allegheny Housing Authority refused to say whether their eviction order was based entirely on Mrs. Williams' attire. But they did say noise from her apartment annoyed other tenants. They set a Saturday deadline.

Mrs. Williams occupies the apartment with her 9-year-old son.

As Tractor Overturns

MARISSA, Ill. (AP)—A 13-year-old farm boy, Albert D. Wayland, was injured fatally yesterday when he was pinned beneath an overturned tractor on his father's place near here.

The accident occurred while Albert, his brother, Lloyd, and their father, Howard J. Wayland, were crossing a field to a wood to do some logging.

Albert was operating the tractor which hit a stump and overturned. Coroner C. C. Kane said the boy died of a broken neck.

Today's Forecast Has Little Hope for Rain

KANSAS CITY (AP)—For Missouri farmers wanting rain there is little hope in today's forecast.

A few light afternoon or evening showers in the southeast and the extreme east-central portions are all the forecast offers in the way of moisture. Otherwise there will be little change in temperature, with lows in the mid-60s and tomorrow's highs in the 80s east and in the low 90s west.

St. Joseph with a 93 had yesterday's high in the state, while West Plains with 60 had this morning's low.

Cows grazed on the commons of Jamestown and in Massachusetts by 1635.

doctors do with it.

The federal investigators, working from manufacturers' shipping lists will trace each shipment to make certain it gets into "legal channels."

Store Owner Kills Bandit After Holdup

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Daniel D. Muther, 39-year-old former Fulton, hospital technician, was shot to death by a neighborhood drug store owner he had held up yesterday.

Morris Landau, the store owner, told officers he fired three shots from the door of his store just as the bandit was entering a car across the street.

Muther was hit in the left side of the chest and under the left arm. He died slumped over the wheel of the car.

Muther's shocked father, E. H. Muther of suburban Kirkwood, identified his son's body at the city morgue last night. He said his son had been hospitalized in Atlanta, Ga., for three months about a year ago for psychic disturbances after his wife divorced him.

K. A. Pedersen, administrator of the Callaway County Hospital at Fulton, said Muther came there last March from Kennett, where he worked in a private clinic. Pedersen said Muther was fired last Saturday after missing days at work, appearing despondent and drinking heavily.

Muther was quoted by Pedersen as having said he planned to enter the veterans hospital in St. Louis for a drinking cure. Police said he had entered City Hospital earlier in the day for treatment of alcoholism but checked himself out later.

Less than an hour before he was killed the same bandit had tried to holdup another neighborhood drug store but fled empty handed. Landau said he thought the man took about $200 from his cash register but police found only $168 on the body. He was unarmed except for a paring knife.

Another druggist, Dean W. Link, identified Muther's body as that of the bandit who held him up on June 28, officers said.

St. Louis Probes Police Department

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A circuit court grand jury, in a partial report, says there is a lack of liaison between the new St. Louis County Police Department and other agencies but not breakdown in law enforcement.

The jury finds that there is no breakdown of law enforcement within St. Louis County and that published reports that might lead to that conclusion are in fact without foundation, the report said.

The jury, which is investigating charges of a breakdown in law enforcement in the county area, said yesterday that various factors had caused "confusion."

One listed was the last-minute ruling of validity of the new department when it took over police powers from the sheriff's office last July 1. The lack of liaison was reported between the sheriff's office and police of county communities.

The jury said it was certain superintendent Albert E. DuBois can "establish and maintain a first class police department."

Worker Falls After Inhaling Paint Fumes

ST. LOUIS (AP)—William Coats, 24-year-old painter, was rescued from a fume-filled water tank at Jefferson Barracks yesterday after he had been overcome and fallen from a scaffold.

Capt. Fred Zwick and two other firemen lowered themselves by ropes inside the 180-foot tower. Coats was lying on the bottom of the empty tank, unconscious. The firemen donned gas masks to protect themselves from heavy paint fumes.

Ropes were tied around him and he was hoisted to a porthole in the tank, eased outside onto a narrow catwalk and then lowered to the ground in a canvas rescue bag.

Another painter said Coats had pulled his gas mask aside briefly as he refilled a bucket on a scaffold and then fell unconscious to the floor of the tank, in which they were working.

Hoover Says Ike Is Heeding Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover says President Eisenhower already is acting to put into effect the administrative changes recommended by the commission he headed.

The former President accused Democrats of "an infamous smear" in charging that his commission on governmental reorganization was partisan, that its task forces were "stacked," and that the administration is trying to detach itself from the commission's recommendations.

The Democratic statements appeared Monday in the monthly Democratic Digest, published by the Democratic National Committee.

Hoover, replying in a statement released here yesterday, said they were made by "someone ignorant of the whole workings of the commission." Both Republican and Democratic members of the commission, he said, certified that "my work was fairly and patiently conducted."

Foil Escape Attempt In Laundry Basket

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A city workhouse inmate's bid for freedom in a laundry basket was cut short yesterday by an alert patrolman.

Howard Mudd, walking his beat downtown, noticed a man's head sticking out of the basket on the back of a park department truck. He flagged down a passing motorist, caught up with the truck and arrested the man, who was identified as Bradley Robertson.

Warden H. E. Baynes said Robertson, 39, had been serving a one-year term on a bad check charge and worked in the laundry where towels are washed for the park department. He said the truck has to enter the institution's gate to pick up clean towels.

Nixon Arranges Talks With His Political Chums

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Nixon, winding up a brief southern California vacation, arranged a series of private talks with political friends today.

He planned a breakfast with Mayor Norris Poulson, former Republican congressman. Talks with other personal and political friends will follow at the Biltmore Hotel. The vice president will have dinner privately with California's Republican congressmen and state legislators.

Nixon planned to fly back to Washington tomorrow. He arrived Aug. 9 with his wife and their daughters Julie and Patricia. They spent much of the vacation with Nixon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nixon, of nearby La Habra.

Last night the vice president dedicated a flag and spoke at the opening of the weeklong Musical Festival of the Americas in Hollywood Bowl. Introduced by Mrs. Norman Chandler, president of the Hollywood Bowl Assn., he said: "Many people will say that treaties of peace and friendship can be the source of world peace, but actually they mean nothing unless they are supported by the heart of the people, and any language that is as universal as music is certain to bring people together no matter if they actually understand the speech of their neighbors or not."

Coroner's Jury Accuses Suspects

BROOKHAVEN, Miss. (AP)—Two more white men have been charged with murder in the courthouse slaying of a Negro reported to have urged other Negroes to cast absentee ballots in Mississippi's gubernatorial race.

A coroner's jury met for four hours last night and charged Mack Smith, a farmer, and Charles Falvey, an oil field worker, with the shotgun slaying of Lamar Smith last Saturday on the courthouse lawn.

Earlier, Noah Smith was similarly charged after he surrendered to authorities. Their ages were not given.

Favors Exchange By Country's Musicians

LONDON (AP)—Soviet composer Aram Khachaturian added voice today to those suggesting musical exchanges between the United States and Russia.

In a message to the United States read over Moscow radio, the front-rank Soviet musician applauded American violinist Yehudi Menuhin's current efforts to arrange a visit to Russia in return for an American tour by master Soviet fiddler David Oistrakh.

"American symphony orchestras are said to be wonderful," Khachaturian's message said. "I should very much like to hear one of them in Moscow, say the one which Toscanini conducted (the Symphony of the Air, which recently toured the Far East)."

"I would also like to have the American public hear our symphony orchestras," the composer said. "Discussions with American musicians might help us and they might prove beneficial to our American colleagues as well."

Worry Today Comes From Old Standards

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Much of today's worry about living off the cuff comes from judging present customs by pre-war standards.

There's a new generation to whom the monthly payment is a fixed feature. When one series of payments is finished, a new one is begun. The family budget is drawn up as scrupulously on a credit basis as the cash one was worked out by their parents. So consumer credit and of home mortgages are at all time highs.

Most bankers feel they are going to stay that way—and without necessarily hurting the economy at all. For one thing, times have changed. The standard of living is much higher. Credit enables a family to lift its standard of living now above its present income. Also, many monthly payments now merely replace other items in the old-fashioned budget. For example, where their parents paid out a weekly sum to the servants, today's young folk pay on household appliances that do the work.

Finally, there has been the remarkable upgrading of incomes in recent years, especially in the lower and middle income brackets where so much of today's installment credit is concentrated. Most bankers contend that more persons than ever have incomes large enough to back the debt they have taken on, so that only a small minority are in financial hot water.

Between 7 and 10 million families in this country are reported to be strictly cash buyers who refuse on principle to buy on credit. And more than half of the nation's families are free of installment debt, although some may still owe on their homes.

Of the 43 per cent of families repaying installment loans, almost three-fourths report payments are less than one fifth of their incomes after taxes. The great majority of those who have embraced the time payment way of life are repaying regularly.

"People are paying off their debts as fast as new debt is being contracted," says Arthur O. Dietz, president of C.I.T. Financial Corp.

"Mass production without mass sales would be impossible, and mass sales without mass credit would be a similar improbability," says Theodore H. Silbert, president of Standard Factors Corp.

Delinquencies now are lower than a year ago, according to 47 of the 57 credit executives attending a recent Consumer credit management meeting sponsored by Columbia University.

Then, with Americans doing such a fine job of handling their debts, what is all the worry in Washington about?

The administration says things are all right now; it just doesn't want credit terms made so easy that people will be tempted to get too far in debt.

So far the American consumer has shown great aptitude in handling his time-payment way of life—and the American economy has boomed as a result.

She reported that since she began the long hike on May 3 she has lost 24 pounds and worn out five pairs of shoes. So far she has walked 1,700 miles, with about 350 miles more to go.

One Dead In Squabble Over Two Prostitutes

SEOUL (AP)—An unidentified U.S. soldier shot and killed two South Korean Marines Sunday in an argument over Korean girls, an Army source reported today.

Two other Korean Marines and a civilian were wounded.

The source said the U.S. soldier went to a tent in a battalion area of the ROK 1st Marine Division and asked if there were any girls in the tent.

The Koreans told him there were none, but he tried to enter the tent. An ROK Marine rushed at him and told him to go back to his own unit.

The Army source said the soldier walked off to meet another American soldier apparently waiting for him.

Suddenly, he turned and fired with his carbine, killing two Marines.

ROK police reported the U.S. soldiers had been walking with two Korean prostitutes.

Police said the girls disappeared and the soldiers may have suspected the Marines were hiding them.

Two Found Alive As Plane Takes 4 Lives

THE PAS, Man. (AP)—Two oil company employees who parachuted from a disabled plane over northern Saskatchewan were treated in a hospital here today for shock and malnutrition.

Four other Imperial Oil Co. employees aboard the plane died when it crashed Saturday near the Manitoba-Saskatchewan border.

A search plane yesterday picked up G. H. Kendall, 25, and Owen Smith, 24, both of Regina, Sask. One of the men was spotted nine miles from the crash scene by a search plane. A pontoon-equipped plane was summoned and the second man was found after the rescuers landed.

Must Refund Money Paid In Cheese Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Comptroller General ruled today that the Agriculture Department made "unauthorized and improper" payments of two million dollars to private companies for cheese last year.

Chairman Fountain (D-NC) of an investigating House Government Operations Subcommittee, promptly wrote to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, suggesting he recover this money "which was paid out illegally."

The payments were to cheese distributors in March and April, 1954, and involved some 90 million pounds of cheese, Fountain said.

Committee officials said about 100 companies were involved in the payments. They said the biggest sums were about $700,000 paid to the Kraft Foods Co., and $300,000 to the Borden Co.

Among other firms receiving payments they listed C. J. Berst and Co., Portage, Wis., $150,000; National Biscuit Co., $108,000; A & P Stores, $93,000; Superior Cheese Co. (a Safeway affiliate) $74,000; and H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., $24,000.

On April 1, 1954, Benson lowered the government support rate for cheese from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

The agriculture department said that cheese distributors seeing that the support price was going to drop, had in mind putting all they could into government hands before the April 1 deadline.

In order to keep the cheese in channels where it would be readily available to consumers, the department said, it arranged "purchase-resale transactions" under which it paid distributors for the cheese at the old support rate and sold it back to them at the lower new rate—without the cheese actually leaving the distributors' warehouses.

Fountain did not specify how Benson could recover the funds.

The ruling by the Comptroller General Joseph Campbell was issued at Fountain's request.

Will Postpone Decision Over Church Split

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Delegates to the 33rd biennial convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Wisconsin and other states vote today on the recommendation of the synod's union committee to postpone final action on a proposal to break religious ties with the Missouri Synod.

The committee said it recommended the delay to give the Missouri group a chance to answer charges of "false practice" when it holds its triennial convention next year.

The Wisconsin Synod objects to the Missouri group's engaging in common prayer with other Lutherans, participating in military chaplaincy and tolerating church sponsorship of Boy Scouts.

The two groups have shared altar and pulpit ties since 1872. Both are members of the Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference of North Americans.

Pastor Conrad I. Frey, president of the Michigan Lutheran Seminary at Saginaw and chairman of the union committee, said seven of the 22 committee members opposed the committee recommendations to delay the vote.

The committee accused Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis, president of the Missouri Synod, of "intensifying the division" between the two groups.

The committee said Dr. Behnken sought to justify the position of the Missouri Synod in religious publications.

Dr. Behnken, in an unscheduled appearance here last week, appealed for continued unity between the Missouri and Wisconsin synods.

South Koreans Injure Young Army Officer

SEOUL (AP)—Rock-hurling South Koreans injured an American Army officer today as they again turned their wrath against U. S. troops guarding inspection teams of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

Lt. Wayne N. Hansen, Augusta, Ga., was hit on the head as South Koreans hurled a barrage of rocks and stones at eight U. S. Army vehicles crossing the causeway between Inchon and Wolmi Island, where neutral truce inspectors are housed.

Army doctors said Hansen sustained a slight brain concussion and bruises of the ribs and legs but described his condition as "not serious."

The incident, latest in the series of South Koreans demonstrations demanding ouster of pro-Communist Czech and Polish members of the NNSC, flared into violence as 100 South Koreans tried to block Army supply trucks going to Wolmi.

It came just as last week's mob rioting and demonstrations against NNSC personnel appeared to have subsided and as Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, U. N. Far East commander, was en route to Seoul airport for the return flight to his Tokyo headquarters.

Lemnitzer spent several heated sessions with South Korean President Syngman Rhee last week, sternly warning Rhee that American troops would protect all members of the NNSC from violent demonstrations.

Lemnitzer conferred with Rhee again today.

Col. Cada then turned the $50 over to Jack Faber, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, to be used for the Sedalia Civic Center for the boys at the Air Base.

First Lt. James J. Hughes, new Catholic chaplain at the Air Base, made a short talk in which he said in the 4½ years he had been in service he had never seen a better gesture than the picnic and when he had spoken to another airman about it he also had never seen a better one in his nine years of service. Chaplain Hughes closed the program with a prayer.

You can install midget ventilators inconspicuously in sidewalls, eaves, soffits and gables.

Do It Yourself—

Tiny Ventilators in Walls Let the Home Breathe Again

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Happily or unhappily, depending on the way you look at it, we Americans have discovered how to build snug houses. Our homes, that is, are tightly constructed.

One way to look at it is that this has many advantages over the days when few houses were insulated and most were drafty. In another respect those were the "good old days," though. Of course the heating bills were high but nobody had heard of "vapor barriers" and they didn't worry about damage from "moisture condensation" within the walls.

That's all changed nowadays. People point to blistered house paint and declare knowingly, "Condensation does that," or "He'd better install a vapor barrier," or "They need to ventilate that wall," or "That didn't used to happen in the good old days."

At last we've learned that houses, like people, need to breathe; that an airtight house is a problem house. But rather than keep our windows open in winter as well as summer, we've invented other means of ventilating our houses.

One such product for this purpose was introduced by an East Coast manufacturer about eight years ago. It was a midget louver designed for easy installation in sidewalls, soffits, eaves and gables, in order to ventilate these dead-air spaces.

The tiny louvers are round and come in one to six-inch sizes. They are installed in holes drilled in wood with an electric drill equipped with a hole saw, whose diameter corresponds in size with the diameter of the louver shank.

The louvers have built-in screens that keep out insects, and are available with or without rain deflectors. Deflectorless louvers are installed in areas where there is no danger of rain blowing in.

Generally the tiny ventilators are placed in sidewalls to correct a moisture condition that has caused paint to blister. To accomplish this, two two-inch louvers are usually installed in each space between wall studs—one at the top of the space, another at the bottom.

Louvers installed at regular intervals along eaves and soffits help installed in each space between ceiling and roof. In summer this helps prevent the buildup of heat and moisture in attics. Moisture of course can ruin some types of insulation. In winter the louvers help equalize the temperature between the roof and the overhang of eaves or soffits, thus eliminating heat pockets that cause snow to melt on the roof. In the absence of ventilation, heat from the attic melts the snow, water runs down to the overhang or gutters and freezes again. This causes "ice dams" which in turn cause water to back up under shingles, damaging ceilings, sidewalls and insulation.

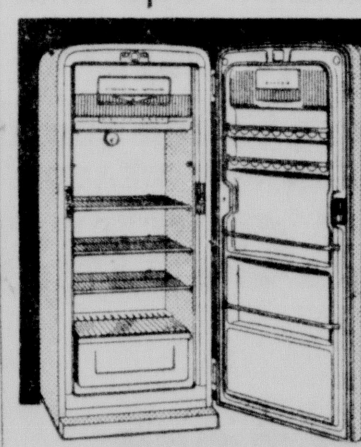

The original manufacturer of midget louvers has just recently introduced a new and even smaller louver that resembles a thimble in size and appearance. It is specifically designed to ventilate the dead-air spaces on the back side of bevelled siding boards. It, however, does not ventilate the spaces within stud walls; this job is handled by its bigger brother.

The thimble-type louvers are installed by drilling 3/8-inch holes at a sharp angle upward through the butts of siding boards, and by inserting the louvers into the holes with a pencil. (The butts of siding boards are their thickest part. Holes drilled here are hardly visible except under close scrutiny.)

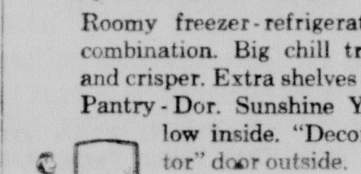

Many cases of paint blistering can be relieved simply by installing these super-tiny louvers. In severe cases it may be necessary to use the bigger ones as well, so that water vapor within the walls themselves can escape to the outside.

Terramycin Eye Pellets

Ne Quick and Effective Way To Treat "Pink Eye"

Most every one who has had experience with livestock knows "Pink Eye" at a glance. The name is very descriptive as the tissue around the eye becomes swollen and red. It is highly contagious, being spread from one animal to another by gnats and flies. In many advanced cases the cornea becomes opaque, total blindness may occur. Quite often affected animals refuse to eat or drink and lose weight rapidly.

Treatment in the past has been very difficult, since anything you squirt or puff into the eye is washed out by the tears about as soon as it hits.

Terramycin eye pellets are the answer. You simply place one or more tablets, depending on the severity of infection, in the lower eyelid. These tablets dissolve slowly and give prolonged action both in killing germs and in anesthetic relief.

They are safe... effective and convenient and also inexpensive. If you have a case of "Pink Eye," buy Terramycin Eye Pellets. Packed 10 tablets in a box for only 80¢.

O Tempora! O Mores! . . .

We hear a great deal about the atomic age, the remarkable inventions which have added to the comfort and killing power of humanity the past 75 years. Within the space of less than a half century these developments have been so accelerated they have occurred within the memory of some of us youngsters who have not reached 60.

Customs and dress have undergone a distinct mutation, too. The younger generation thinks change has occurred precipitously during only their lifetime, but for their edification and disillusionment let it be said that 75 years ago change in manners and customs was startlingly evident to the old-timers of that era also.

Over Knob Noster way the editor of the weekly newspaper, "The Gem," had this to say in his issue of June 3, 1881:

"The manners of engaged girls are subject to constant modification at the caprice of fashion. . . The engaged couples of 1881 are not commanded to hide their endearments under a bushel. They may even kiss in company if they are chaste about it. . . Such a public kiss would have been scandalous in March of 1880; but in 1881 it is fashionable, and therefore proper.

"A new custom is for a suitor to keep his ladylove supplied with candy flowers and fruit. Many fellows make contracts with the florists to deliver bouquets regularly every morning. . . A satin receptacle for gumdrops with hand-painted pictures on it may cost anywhere from one to ten dollars. As for fruits, it is the aim of the enterprising lover to give his adored one her first taste of the season in this line. To this end he haunts the market and pays fabulous prices for the first lot of strawberries. . ."

You who are in the courtship stage today, how about that!

What has happened to the candy and gum drop era. Who is responsible for the decline in the famous home-made candy stores like Grammar's Palace of Sweets and many others in Sedalia? Was it the Him or Her who decided that the buxom girls of the 80's and 90's should give way to the slender, sylph-like darlings of the present century? The buxom ones were mighty popular in the old days, and they usually got their man by accepting his date-borne candy and munching sweets till the Battle of the Bulge was won.

Not so the modern gals. They cast a suspicious eye on the boy friend who would fatten them up with candy. One or two chocolates may be all right but the rest of it goes to mom and pop and the little brothers and sisters.

Just what part the automobile may have played in this feminine decision to modify her courting figure is not certain but one key to the mystery may be the swimming pool craze and popularity of the brief bathing suits the young ladies insist on wearing, which allows them to obtain that attractive deep tan so becoming to the athletic type, or just any old type, so long as the type is slim.

Even so while the girls may rule out candy as a fattening defeat of their objectives, what about fruit and flowers today as the courting entree of the suitor the same as 75 years ago? Wouldn't it be fun just to go out for a drive with a couple of boxes of strawberries to munch on? If there were any leftovers Mom could bake a shortcake.

Let's revive the old fashioned custom anyway; fruit and flowers and strawberries with a kiss thrown in for good measure.

Drew Pearson Says—

Lobby Pressure In Capital Transit Strike

WASHINGTON — During the closing days of Congress terrific pressure was put on the Senate to pass a bill changing the quotas on the imports of sugar into this country. The bill failed to pass in the mad rush to adjourn, but will be up for passage again in January, at which time the public should be aware of the terrific lobbying forces for and against this bill.

The sugar quota act, passed under Roosevelt, fixed the amount of sugar which can enter the United States from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Peru, Mexico, the Virgin Islands and other off-shore areas. In order to give Cuba a stable economy and insure sugar in time of war, by far the largest quota goes to Cuba. In return Cuba did not increase the price of sugar to us during the war.

The sugar quota act does not expire for another year. But early this year, the domestic cane sugar growers of Louisiana with the beet sugar growers of the Rocky Mountain states, demanded an immediate change with an increase in domestic quotas largely at the expense of Cuba's share of increased American consumption.

Significantly, Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana, chairman of the powerful Senate agricultural committee, introduced a bill re-adjusting these quotas. Senator Ellender, who comes from Louisiana, would naturally vote to help Louisiana cane sugar growers. But the senator went further than the usual call of duty by pushing his bill vigorously. Simultaneously he put himself in the same "conflict of interest" position that forced Harold Talbott out as the secretary of the air force.

Ellender's Conflict

In an earlier column, I pointed out that a great many congressmen were in exactly the same position as Talbott through the receipt of campaign contributions. Clarence Randall, head of Inland Steel, has since emphasized the same point in a speech in Chicago.

Senator Ellender got himself into a conflict of interest by buying four acres of choice land from the South Downs Sugar Company, a concern whose president, Wallace Kemper, was a member of the sugar lobby and testified before Ellender for a change in sugar quotas.

Ellender bought this land for the extraordinary cheap price of $10,000. The land lies across a bayou from the U. S. sugar experiment station just outside Houma, the senator's home town. The land is potentially rich in oil and adjacent lots sell for around $4,000. Yet Ellender bought this land for $2,500 an acre from the company which appeared before him to demand a change in sugar quotas.

Immediately after the purchase, a neighboring businessman wrote the South Downs Sugar Company offering to buy another adjacent four acres for $2,500 an acre and was refused. In other words, Senator Ellender got a favored purchase from a domestic cane sugar company.

Senator Ellender, when questioned by this column, said he had bought the land in order to build a home for his son. He said he did not consider that he had got any favors from the sugar company nor was under any obligation to the sugar company.

Harold Talbott, when asked by Senator Ellender's colleagues about contracts he got from defense companies, said the same thing.

Cuban Sugar Lobby

This is one phase of the sugar lobby story. Another pertains to Cuban sugar. In order to offset the cane sugar friends of Senator Ellender and his determination to re-adjust sugar quotas, the Cuban sugar mill owners association hired a battery of lawyer-lobbyists stretching from Boston to Miami. Its strategy was to pick high-class lawyers who were on good terms with key senators and congressmen dealing with the sugar quota bill.

There was nothing illegal about this. Furthermore, Cuba deserves a high rating in the American sugar market. However, it is a reflection on the American legislative machinery that Cuba found it necessary to hire a battery of lawyers to get from Congress what she probably deserved anyway.

Heading the Cuban lawyer-lobby list was Geo. Ball, brilliant Washington attorney who was one of Adlai Stevenson's top brain-trusters. His firm was reported to have been paid a fee of $50,000.

Representing the Cuba lobby in Miami was ex-Congressman William Lantaff of Florida, also an able lawyer, who happens to be close to Senator Smathers of Florida. Lantaff gave Smathers his first reception when he arrived in Washington as a senator and has sometimes filled speaking engagements for Smathers when he's been unable to get back to Florida.

The World Today—

Is There Courage Behind 5th Amendment?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The use of the Fifth Amendment to protect others raises a simple question of personal courage.

Does a man have the right — when asked by an authorized congressional committee about his past or present Communist affiliations, if any — to refuse to answer under the protection of the Fifth Amendment?

Yes, if he has reason to fear what he says might lead to jail for him later. No, if he has no reason to fear imprisonment himself and his only reason for not answering is to protect others from jail or embarrassment.

When a man invokes the Fifth Amendment for his own protection, it does not necessarily mean he is guilty of any crime. But it does raise a question about his innocence.

Under the Constitution's Fifth Amendment no one can be compelled to say anything which might somehow incriminate him. So, when he pleads the amendment before a congressional committee, he cannot be forced to answer. If for any reason he did not wish to answer and simply said so — without invoking a constitutional protection — he could be cited for contempt of Congress and, if tried and convicted, be sent to jail.

But, since it is not a crime in this country to be a Communist, how can a man say anything which eventually might land him in jail? This is an example:

Under the Smith Act, passed in 1940, it is a crime to conspire to teach the forcible overthrow of the government. It doesn't make it a crime to be a Communist but batches of top and second-string Communist leaders have been tried and convicted under the conspiracy charge. Others may be.

But isn't it a fact that nothing a man says in answer to a committee's questions — such as admitting membership in the Communist party — can ever be used against him later in a court trial? Yes.

While a man's exact words before a committee can never be quoted against him in a trial later, his words may give the government leads to other information on which he could be prosecuted.

It is for this reason that a man — asked if he is or was a Communist — can escape answering by ducking behind the Fifth Amendment. The protection of this amendment against self-incrimination extends only to questions asked of an individual about himself. A congressional committee established by all the people to protect all the people's interests, has a right to ask questions.

The real act of courage for a witness who wanted to protect others would be not to hide behind the amendment's protection for himself in refusing to answer, but instead to say he would answer no questions. Period.

If he did that he could be cited for contempt of Congress and probably jailed. In that way at least he would be willing to pay a price for what he considered courage. There is no danger behind the Fifth Amendment.

THE LITTLE BOY went out with his father to see some horses and was watching the man who takes care of the horses clip them. He wanted his hair clipped, too.

"All right," said the man, "I'm a barber."

The youngster kept insisting on the man using the clippers on him and the father who thought it couldn't hurt anything since the man was a barber just told him to go ahead.

So the man with the clippers made a couple of swipes at the back of the child's head and just nearly ruined him.

"I thought you said you were a barber," said the father.

Yes, he did say that, the man admitted, and he is a barber, too, a horse barber.

So after the clipping, the little boy was taken as fast as father could get him there to a barber, who repaired the damages as best he could.—H.L.

New Book Tells You the Way To Make a Million Dollars

By ED CREAHE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Want to make a million dollars?

There's a new pocket-size book out which tells exactly how to do it. Sounds as if the formula might work, too, if any of us had the sense and stick-to-it-iveness to follow it. A little luck might help some, too.

Marvin Small is the author of this book, titled "How To Make More Money." (Pocket Books, 35 cents.) He made enough money himself out of such things as deodorants to retire at 45.

Basically, Small's formula is so simple that you wonder why he wrote a book about it. "Find out what a lot of people want and then give it to them" is about what it adds up to — which sounds pretty much like an old wheeze about building a better mousetrap.

But Small goes on to cite case histories — such as that of Leo Gerstenzang, who watched his wife bathe the baby, saw she was having trouble twisting cotton around the end of a toothpick, and invented Q-tips then and there.

(Small doesn't point it up, but there's another lesson here: Always let your wife bathe the baby. If Gerstenzang had said, "Here, darling, let me do that," the chances are dim he would have the high Dun & Bradstreet rating he enjoys today.)

"All right," you say, "but this

Schoolgirl Wins $8,000 by Her Spelling Ability

NEW YORK (AP)—A 12-year-old schoolgirl spelled her way into $8,000 last night by clicking off "antidisestablishmentarianism" on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question."

Gloria Lockerman's grandmother will decide whether the junior high school student tries the $16,000 question next Tuesday or settles for the $8,000.

If she tries for the $16,000 and fails, she will receive a $4,000 college education trust fund as a consolation prize. The regular consolation prize is an expensive automobile, but the rule was altered in view of Gloria's age.

Gloria, a Negro, who finished 34th out of 62 finalists in the National Spelling Bee at Washington, D.C., last May, smiled as she picked spelling as her category on the TV show last night.

Gloria, a ninth-grade student at Booker T. Washington Junior High School, Baltimore, was accompanied on the program by her grandmother Mrs. Bertha Key, with whom she lives.

Gloria spelled coyote, dinosaur, chinchilla and hippopotamus to win an assured $512. She then moved up through $1,000 by spelling plenipotentiary, $2,000 with gingham and taffeta, and $4,000 with minuet, waltz and mazurka.

Serious Breaches Are Present In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina. (AP)—The end of a shaky two-month truce between the Roman Catholic Church and Argentina's dominant Peronista political party appeared at hand today.

The party's Supreme Council last night indicated its open anti-church campaign would be revived with a statement condemning "those who use religious dogma and their church as instruments of low political ends." The council said the time had come for it to resume all-out political activity.

Such a move had been expected after the government announced Monday that it had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Juan D. Peron and other government leaders. The government blamed "Catholic nationalists" and poopsition political leaders.

Decorate A Room For Children

By David G. Bareuther,
AP Real Estate Editor

Finishing off a separate room for a school boy or school girl can be a profitable project. You can find lots of authorities (probably with no children of their own) who will pontificate on the theme of how a private room contributes to the development of an adolescent's personality. But in plain words, there's no denying that the youngster will like the idea and besides it can add value to your house.

Whether this room involves conversion of an attic, a breezeway, a garage, or a corner of a dry and airy basement, it should not be regarded as a temporary expedient. You may think that within too few years, Junior or Sister will finish school and soon fly the coop. However, good use can always be found for a well-planned and permanently finished extra room.

Of course, all construction work is relatively expensive nowadays, but it is easy to make a justifiable home improvement on a time payment basis. Banks and savings associations readily advance funds for such projects, especially when the FHA insures their loan and you pay for the insurance, in other cases, where there is an "open-end" clause in a mortgage, you can borrow back some of the money you already have paid off and either extend paying more each month, or increase the remaining payments.

A wood paneled room is especially appropriate for a boy as well as for future use as a den. This has an informal and rustic tone and still it has dignity, too, because of its early American background.

You can get gorgeous effects with wood paneling without spending a fortune. One of its big advantages is the fact that you don't have to redecorate if you stain the wood or wax it to keep its natural appearance.

Some of the most beautiful pine paneling in historic houses never was finished in any manner. It was merely allowed to mellow with age and whatever oil or grease it picked up from the air.

Or if you prefer, you can paint any kind of wood paneling in the Williamsburg style. But the only trouble with painting it is that it will call for a tough removal job if anyone ever wants to get down to the natural wood.

A good tip on staining tongue and groove decorative paneling, such as knotty pine, is to stain and seal the boards on both sides and all edges when you have them cut to size and before you nail them into place. This point is stressed by the Western Pine Association of Portland, Ore., in its documentary film, "Operation Attic." It insures you against having unfinished cracks show up in the course of natural movement in the wall, such as from expansion, contraction or settling.

KNOTTY PINE paneling makes an appropriate boy's room.

Another sound suggestion from the pine producers is to store your lumber for a few days in the room where you plan to use it. The boards should be stacked with strips separating them to allow for complete air circulation. This permits the lumber to adjust to the prevailing temperature and humidity of the room before it is nailed and rigid. Any scrap wood or short pieces of wood lath can be used for strips.

These are good ideas whether you are using Southern yellow pine, pecky cypress, or any other kind of wood. And it also is wise to get acquainted with all of the various woods available at your local lumber yard. The Western pines, alone, include Ponderosa, Sugar and Idaho white pine, as well as the associated Douglas and white firs, red and incense cedars, larch, Englemann spruce and Lodgepole pine.

Fall Sown Crops Must Be Protected from Grasshoppers

By Stirling Kyd
Extension Entomologist and
George W. Thomas
Survey Entomologist

GRASSHOPPERS — Rains during the week helped ease hopper damage considerably. Damage is heavy around the edges of many corn fields, and many alfalfa fields still are being worked heavily. In general, however, the situation is not nearly as serious as last year.

As has been mentioned before, the big problem now is protecting fall sown crops. This definitely is the time to get that job done.

Over much of the state, we have a heavy second generation of red-legged and Mexican hoppers coming on. These, together with the big yellow differential hoppers, will work fall-sown crops unless the hoppers are killed now.

CORN EARWORM IN GRAIN SORGHUM — Corn earworms are beginning to feed in grain sorghum heads in some fields. Most of the worms we have seen are still relatively small, and damage not excessive. As the worms get larger, however, damage becomes much greater.

In those fields where a grain crop is to be harvested, check the heads carefully for the worms. Keep in mind that control is difficult at any time, but is easier when the worms are less than half grown.

If spraying is necessary, use 3 pounds of toxaphene per acre. On tight-headed varieties, spray during the heat of the day when the head is partially relaxed so that as much insecticide as possible will get down in the head. Do not spray within about 30 days of combining because of residues.

If the crop is to be used for silage, it will not pay to try to control the worms.

SQUASH BUGS — Squash bugs are getting started on pumpkins and squashes. Control is difficult if the bugs get a good start. Be on the watch for them, and use 1 per cent lindane dust as soon as they are seen.

Optimists Entertain Players On Their Little League Club

Johnny Dunham Chosen As Club's Leaguer of Year

Johnny Dunham was selected as the Optimist Little Leaguer of the Year 1938 and presented with a trophy Tuesday noon at the Optimist Club meeting at Bothwell Hotel. Johnny won the honor through his sportsmanship, his ability and his eagerness to work just as hard when his team was many runs behind as when it was ahead. Fred Arbogast, manager of the Optimist team, stated that Johnny portrayed what a Little Leaguer should be.

Arbogast also presented each of the boys with a gift from the Optimist Club and introduced the boys telling something about them. The first boy he introduced was Gary Bryan, a pitcher and, said Arbogast, he is a pitcher. He won 14 of 35 games played. Other boys introduced were Ira (Butch) McKenzie, the only three league champion, who is an outstanding ball player; Gary Stout, catcher, new boy on the team for whom he traded; Charles Case, who was the first base man; Johnny Dunham, who is from the country and came to town because he wanted to play ball; George Goetz, another member of the team and Butch McKenzie, a little fellow, who is going to be quite a star according to Arbogast's prediction.

Introducing Arbogast was Gerald Cecil, program chairman, who praised the manager for his work with the boys in his three years in that capacity. In those three the Optimist team has won 37 and lost 16 games.

"There is nothing I enjoy more than working with these boys," said Arbogast, and he praised the fine leadership given by men working in the Little League. He then introduced George Ray whom he said had done a wonderful work in the Little League and was responsible for the building of the Little League stadium.

Arbogast went on to tell of the difficulty that came from not being able to play the eight and nine year old boys who were hurt because they weren't given an opportunity to play. This, he said, brought about the Little League. Then there was the Major League, the Minor League and for the little fellows, the Mite League. A great deal of credit for the Little League, he said, goes to George Foster. Foster stated the Optimists were fortunate in having the bunch of boys they had and he felt that the Minor League was a good thing because it fills that gap for the eight and nine year old boys.

Bill McKenzie, coach of the Optimist team was then introduced by Arbogast. McKenzie said the only thing wrong was that he became attached to the boys and hated to see them go on.

Arbogast then introduced George Nold of the farm team of the Minor League. Sending those boys up to the Major League, said Nold, is like sending your own boys away from home. You hate to do it.

George Foster and George Nold were then presented with gifts from the Optimist Club.

George Ray made a short talk on the need for more ball fields in Sedalia. Property is high, said Ray, and I don't know where we could get more ball fields but they are definitely needed. There should be at least two more. There is a need for another Little League Park.

The meeting was presided over by Charles Hurr, president, with

Joplin Eliminated In Little League

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—The Joplin, Mo. team was eliminated last night in the semi-finals of the regional Little League baseball tournament.

Ashland, Ohio, defeated the Missouri team, 9 to 3, to enter the final along with Hamtramck, Mich. Ashland was trailing 3-2 in the fifth when Pitcher Jim Briggs put the Ohioans in front with a homer which cleared the loaded bases. Briggs allowed the Missourians only three hits.

National League Hits 1,000 Home Run Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League was past the 1,000 home run mark today.

Home runs by Willie Mays of the Giants, Roy Campanella of the Dodgers, Stan Musial of the Cardinals and Smokey Burgess of the Redlegs last night brought the senior circuit's homer total to 1,002.

The major league mark is 1,197 set by the National League in 1953.

Hero and Goat
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dale Long, Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman, was a goat one night and a hero the next.

In a game against the Chicago Cubs, the Pirates were trailing 4-3 in the last of the ninth inning. The Bucs loaded the bases with two out when Long came to bat. He struck out.

The next night the Cubs and Pirates were playing a 1-1 tie. With one out in the ninth Long came to the plate. He hit a home run for a 2-1 victory.

Guests introduced were Bob Barrick, Austin, Tex., guest of his brother, Harold Barrick, and L. R. Rubin, with the Cetlin and Wilson Shows at the Missouri State Fair, guest of Dr. K. L. Holdren. Harold Barrick announced the Little League-Babe Ruth All Star game to be held for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Center at the Bothwell Hospital will be played Wednesday night.

Hot Red Sox Turn Cooler As They Drop Six Games

By ED WILKS
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is the bubble busted in Boston? The once-hot Red Sox, stepping on the heels of the leaders barely three weeks ago, now have tumbled to six defeats in their last 11 games, slipping 4½ games behind in the American League pennant race.

The Red Sox took a real pasting last night, crumbling before the New York Yankees 13-6 as the Bombers won their seventh straight to snatch a 1½-game lead in the mad pennant scramble. The Yanks added a full game to their margin as Detroit knocked off the Cleveland Indians 7-0 behind Billy Hoelt's two-hitter and Chicago replaced the Tribe in second place.

Many Entries In Stock Car Championship

With the Missouri Modified Stock Car championship race little more than a week away, entries are catapulting into Acting Fair Secretary W. H. Ritzenthaler's office at a rapid rate.

Today the office tallied the 41st title aspirant and warned that with the field limited to the first 50 entries submitted car owners and drivers have but little time left to get in under the wire.

"The 50 entries bearing the earliest postmarks will be recognized as competitors for the race," Ritzenthaler said, adding that any others would be moved into the lineup in the event that one or more of the 50 cars should be unable to compete.

Cars from St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis and a number of central Missouri points will tangle on the revamped State Fairgrounds half-mile circuit in a six-event car race, capped by the 25-lap championship race. In addition to a handsome trophy, $2,500 in prize money will be at stake.

The modified event, slated Saturday afternoon, Aug. 20, will serve to kick off a speed carnival that has speedway-type cars racing on the half-mile the following day and again in a 100-mile classic over the mile oval Saturday, Aug. 27. Winding up the diversified four-day program on Sunday, Aug. 28, will be late model stock cars in the third annual 100-mile stock car event for the State Fairgrounds mile track.

Larsen won his fourth since returning from Denver, but wasn't around at the end. Tom Morgan mopped up for the rightshander after Jackie Jensen's 20th home run in the eighth inning belted Larsen from the mound. Earlier, Larsen had given up homers to relief pitcher Dick Brodowski and Ted Williams.

Cleveland got Bobby Avila's single off Hoelt in the first inning, and one by Larry Doby in the second, then went limp as the left-hander retired 21 men in order before giving up his only walk to Al Smith with two gone in the ninth.

Kansas City scored just one run on a double and three singles to tie Chicago in the eighth, then made it 4-3 on Gus Zernial's pinch single in the 11th. The White Sox came right back against Tom Gorman, Art Ceccarelli and Bill Harrington, loading the bases on two walks and Jim Rivera's bunt. Jim Busby's sacrifice fly tied it and Bob Kennedy's single won it.

Baltimore smacked 16 hits, including Cal Abrams's two-run homer, to beat Washington 7-2. In the National, New York cuffed Brooklyn 5-3. St. Louis dumped Milwaukee 3-2. Cincinnati whipped Chicago 11-2 and Philadelphia trounced Pittsburgh 12-3.

Willie Mays got the Giants home safe with his 37th homer, a two-run blow, for a 5-0 lead in the fifth before Roy Campanella finally solved Ruben Gomez for a three-run shot, his 26th, in the sixth. Johnny Podres lost it.

The Cardinals dumped the Braves to a one-game edge over third-place New York on Bill Sarni's run-scoring triple in the eighth. Stan Musial smacked his 26th homer with one on in the first as Harv Haddix won his 10th. Cincinnati lifted fifth place from the Cubs, swinging for 15 hits and rolling up its runs in the first three innings on 11 hits and two errors.

Lee Dow, manager of the Little League 12-year-olds, asks all players in the Wednesday night game to be there by 6:30 p.m.

Heavyweight Fight Scheduled Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—A couple of hard-hitting heavyweights, Nino Valdes of Cuba and Bob Satterfield of Chicago, meet tonight at Chicago Stadium in a 10-round nationally televised bout (ABC — 8 p. m. CST).

Valdes, fifth-ranking heavyweight, had a string of 11 successive victories snapped recently by light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

He will be risking his high ranking against an unpredictable fighter who seldom goes the limit in a fight. Satterfield has scored knockouts in 30 of his 38 victories and if he doesn't kyo his opponent, he usually winds up on the deck himself.

Valdes also is a knockout artist with 23 kayos in 33 victories.

The game left Detroit with eight more contests against Cleveland—six of them in the last nine days of the season. The Tigers play six more games with Chicago and Boston and four against New York.

Town and Country Girls to Tourney

The Town and Country girls' softball team was defeated Tuesday night at Fulton 6-3. The local girls got eight hits as the Fulton club took five hits.

The Town and Country girls will go to St. Joseph Friday at 5:30 p.m., where they will enter the state girls' softball tournament.

Moore Considers Marciano As Practically a Midget

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—At the rate he is talking with more than a month still to go, Archie Moore appears to be in grave danger of leaving his fight in training camp. Here's the latest attributed to the challenger, who earlier explained in detail how he expects to finish off Rocky Marciano once he scores a knockdown:

"Compared to some of the guys I fought, Marciano is practically a midget. I have an inch and a half on him in height and a reach advantage of at least 10 inches. I'm not worrying about Marciano taking me out in one punch. He's just a little guy, like me."

Trapshooters Start Firing Grand Friday

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The guns start booming Friday on the half-mile firing line here as America's top trapshooters start tuning up for the 56th Grand American.

Championship events get under way Monday and run through Saturday, Aug. 27, with crackshots from every state in the union, Canada, Mexico, Cuba and the Canal Zone—a field of more than 2,000—firing for the gold and glory.

Something new will be added this year in the handicap events. Through trapshooting's long history, no marksman has been placed more than 25 yards back of the trap but at least eight of 'em will be back at 27 yards this time.

In the handicap events the marksmen are placed from 17 to 27 yards behind the traps, the yardage being figured on known ability and registered scores.

The hotshots can't figure out why they should be penalized so heavily because only one man—Walter Beaver of Berwyn, Pa., in 1933—ever won the Grand American Handicap from 25 yards. No one has copped the event from 24 yards, and only four times since 1900 has it been won from 23 yards.

Generally some newcomer has picked up around $10,000 as the victor from inside the 20-yard markers. Last year it was 14-year-old Jack Egan of New York City who broke 99 of 100 from 19 yards to triumph.

Aaron Bird, manager of the Amateur Trapshooting Assn., said only eight of the country's thousands of shooters were 27-yarders this season—one a woman. She's Mrs. Evelyn Primm, of Los Angeles.

Others to fire from the extreme yardage at the "grand" are Maynard Henry of Los Angeles; Merle Stocksdale of Los Angeles; Arnold Riegger, Seattle; Tom Lynott, Salt Lake City; Vic Reinders of Waukesha, Wis.; Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev., and Julius Petty, from Stuttgart, Ark.

Chiefs Play Mexico There On Thursday

The Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs will meet at the Ralph Hamlin Service Station Thursday at 4:15 p.m. to leave for Mexico for a league game with the Ramblers.

The Chiefs will round out their fight for first place in the league with the last two games in Brookfield Sunday and Boonville the following Thursday.

"The eyes are the mirrors of the soul," said light heavy-weight Champion Archie Moore when asked why he continually stared at Bobo Olson before their recent fight.

Don Phillips, San Jose State end, works as a shipping clerk in an ink factory during the summer.

Holden's Chiefs Will Open Friday At Semi-Pro Tilt

Wichita's Lawrence Stadium is certain to be jammed when four of the midwest's leading non-pro baseball clubs play in two games, Friday night, to open the 21st annual national championship baseball tournament.

Wichita (Kan.) Boeing Bombers, defending national champions, meet Holden (Mo.) Chiefs, fourth-ranking club of the 1954 national tournament in the 9:30 p.m. game. Boeing's 1955 record is 36 wins and four lost. Holden boasts 41 wins and six losses.

In the opener at 7 p.m. a pair of 1955 state champions—Peoria (Ill.) Caterpillars and North Platte (Neb.) Plainsmen—collide. Their season's records—Peoria, 22-3; North Platte, 27-6.

Before the national classic closes on Labor day, 63 games will have been played to determine the United States representative in the first NBC global world's tournament in Milwaukee's County stadium, starting Sept. 23. The national champions must finish with either a 7-0 or 7-1 record to annex the title here.

Honored on the opening program at 9:15 p.m. will be two outstanding graduates from the national tournament two decades ago—Alie Reynolds and Leroy (Satchel) Paige.

Mail reservations for the opening—and all following sessions—are being accepted at Hollabaugh's Main and William Streets, Wichita.

Canadian Open Entered by 200 Gets Under Way

WESTON, Ont. (AP)—Practice rounds and predictions of the way, a field of nearly 200 big league pros, top-flight amateurs, and a few ordinary golfers, today get down to the more serious business of winning the Canadian Open championship.

They've got a long haul ahead with 18 holes carded each day over the 6,428 yard par-72 Weston course until Saturday's windup. Any one of 10 or 12 shotmakers can take the big payoff in the $15,000 open and almost certainly an American will top the list.

Defending champion Pat Fletcher, of Saskatoon, who gave Canada its first Canadian title-holder in 40 years, isn't too highly regarded by the experts—and himself—to make it two in a row. He is bothered by the flu and, in addition, hasn't played much tournament golf since his big win.

The public choice is Mike Sou-chak, the huskie from Grossinger, N. Y.

The government has an anti-trust suit against Norris' IBC, and the fight promoter, whose intertwined family interests include control of the Detroit Red Wing hockey team and Detroit's Olympia Stadium, said he was "fed up with investigations."

"Let them investigate anything they want," he said. "We've got nothing to hide."

New Racers Enter—Judd Larson Will Compete At Clinton

Judd Larson, Austin, Tex., a top winner of stocks, modified and midget cars, will make his first appearance at the Clinton track tonight. He will be piloting a Crosley, powered by an "Offie" motor. Judd swept the field Sunday night in Kansas City in his first appearance in the new car, so he will be giving the boys some real stiff competition.

Jay Moore, heavy footed speedster of Pittsburg, Kan., showed the boys the short way home in the feature last week. He captured the feature but was unable to collect the $15 due to D. B. Bunch, having a broken drive shaft and unable to run in the feature. Col. John W. Smith, Golden Valley Speedway owner, had offered $15 to the driver out-running Bunch in the main-go-around. The offer still prevails for tonight's program.

Bunch was the winner of the Trophy Dash and was running wheel-to-wheel with Moore when Moore spun out on the west curve, coming into the white flag.

The track record of 15.3 was not broken last week, so another $5 has been added totaling the amount to $25 to the speedster breaking the track record.

It was very close competition in all the races last Wednesday night. Crockett "The Rocket" Thomason, Paul Curry, Carthage, and Jack Belk, Joplin, were running side by side or bumper to bumper throughout the "A" feature with Don Wagoner and Bill Chandler, Springfield, fighting it out for fifth and sixth places. The features winners were: Moore, Curry, Thomason, Belk, Chandler, Wagoner and Powell.

"Flying" Jim McMichael, Carthage, who is still having mechanical troubles, hopes to have his engine rebuilt by Wednesday night. Jim is a top driver and is now ranking second in point standings with Bunch leading the pack.

Bill Chennault, Kansas City, has promised to be here with the Haggar's famous "little seven." A large field of fast cars is expected.

The ABC Championship races are drawing nearer with the Wednesday, Aug. 21, the "A" race. The "C" race which will end the season will be a $1,000 guaranteed purse, trophies, lap money. Details on the three Big Races will be announced later.

Nature Can Be Hindrance In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Meg Myles, a voluptuous redhead who is the town's latest Cinderella, argues that a 40-inch bust can be a handicap in Hollywood.

In a town where the going rate of exchange might put such an attribute as the equivalent of six Oscars, the bosomy Meg almost speaks heresy.

"How many actresses with 40-inch busts," she asks, "have ever won an Oscar?"

Marilyn Monroe publicity to the contrary, the 21-year-old Meg reveals how much of a handicap she thinks a well-rounded figure can be.

"The producer and director of a big picture at a major studio wanted me for a good part this week. I didn't get it because the feminine star blue-penciled me."

"She was nice about it though. She said, 'Honey, I would have done the same thing if you had been Baby Leroy or Cheeta the chimp. Even if you couldn't act your way out of a paper bag, I know I'd come out second best in any scene with you.'"

The star, a well-known one, is slender and flat, of course—and a little past 40.

A few years ago, Meg was a College of Pacific coed. She was in a school musical and someone, who knew an agent, suggested she should come to Hollywood. She did.

Scattered parts in TV shows, a little modeling but no success to speak of until one of those little breaks that can tilt a career towards stardom.

She went to a night club one night where in lieu of salaried entertainment, the emcee passed a microphone around the tables—a sort of sitdown amateur night.

Meg had always liked to sing but had never done so professionally. She did a solo from the table—and got the usual burst of applause that comes from the customers who had expected you to fall flat on your face and then are surprised when you don't.

She visited the club often and before long had a job singing there.

One night, as was bound to happen, a customer expressed interest in her talent.

That was Red Doff, now her personal manager. Doff, who has been associated with Liberace and Mickey Rooney, got the producers of "The Phenix City Story" interested in her. They heard her sing once and sent her almost overnight to the notorious Alabama city where the picture was shooting.

In the picture, she plays a prostitute who delivers a torchy blues number, "The Phenix City Blues."

A recording company also got interested and signed her to sing the number. It's selling well. And who said a 40-inch bust is a handicap?

Brahma Bull Escapes Before Being Killed

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A 1,300-pound Brahma bull escaped from a slaughter house yesterday and still roamed free although hit by about 20 pistol bullets. Five armed men stalked the dangerous animal until sundown and then gave up the hunt until daylight. Once it charged a television news photographer who narrowly missed being gored. A stream of pistol bullets turned the animal away.

Only Futile Holdup

LOS ANGELES — "This is a holdup... Move fast," a man simulating a gun in his pocket barked at Miss Jane Silva, cashier at a Pacific Finance Loan Co. office.

Miss Silva turned and told clerk Al Cota, in Spanish, what was going on. When the gunman heard the foreign language he backed toward a door and fled — empty-handed.

HE'S A BIG ONE—Paul Bunyan is back for a personal appearance. Chet Sander is impersonating the mythical western giant at a San Francisco, Calif., celebration. Taking a breather on the Golden Gate bridge, he commented on his gun—"A squirrel rifle for big squirrels."

Audience Award Polls Give Good Look at Finest Movies

The international entertainment spotlight is now focused upon the new motion picture audience awards poll as the result of the initial movie industry meeting staged in Hollywood last week and attended by 300 of the nation's top motion picture stars, producers, exhibitors and representatives of the press.

E. C. Rhoden, president of the National Theatres and national chairman of the Audience Awards Committee, announced the names of the ten motion pictures and 40 screen players selected by the nation's exhibitors in the first stage of the Audience Awards Poll.

This first vote cast by the exhibitors was based on pictures released from Oct. 1, 1954, to March 31, 1955, and was divided into five categories: nominations for best actress, best actor, most promising new personalities (both male and female) and best picture.

Delivering the principal address, Elmer Rhoden said the Audience Awards Poll has been inaugurated after many local polls had met with outstanding success. He said that there will be two more exhibitor nomination periods prior to the first public election held from November 17 to 27. The public will vote in theatre lobbies on a ballot bearing a total of 20 names in each of the five categories.

Rhoden is hopeful of amassing a vote of 50 million, judging from the interest which he feels will be attracted to this thrilling project.

Singling out the stars and most promising new personalities, Rhoden said, "The honor given these nominees will carry great significance. Their choice represents the opinion of several thousand theatre men who have tried to convey through their vote, the feelings of their patrons."

Following are the nominees of the Award's Poll first period in each of the five categories:

Ten Best Pictures: The Bridges at Toko-Ri (Paramount); Battle Cry (Warner Bros.); Blackboard Jungle (Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer);

Mumps Cause Jumps

DENVER — Detective John Leavitt notified a mother that her 9-year-old son had been jailed in Juvenile Hall for investigation of stealing comic books.

"Heaven!" she exclaimed. "How did he get out of the house? He has the mumps."

A police physician examined the boy and said she was right.

If the 20 other inmates had any hope of a quick release, they can forget it now.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Religious Cult Will Hold Big Snake Meet

PINEVILLE, Ky. — As a testimonial to their faith, members of a snake-handling cult will hold services Sunday with a rattlesnake that fatally bit one of their mountain preachers.

Preacher Oscar Sutton said the killer snake will be handled by a Pentecostal Church congregation at a "big" meeting just across the Kentucky line in Virginia.

The announcement came Tuesday at the funeral near here for Lee Valentine, who died 10 hours after being bitten by the rattler during services Saturday in Ft. Payne, Ala.

Snake handling violates Kentucky and Alabama law. Alabama authorities are investigating the death of Valentine, 52, of Pineville.

An overflow crowd turned out for the last rites on Straight Creek, the community Valentine served for many years. There were eulogies, singing, guitar picking and snake handling.

More than a dozen preachers eulogized Valentine. And while four guitar pickers sang, other preachers handled two copperheads and passed them among the crowd.

Mice are kept as pets in many parts of the world.

Screen Actors Guild Accepts New Contract

HOLLYWOOD — The Screen Actors Guild has accepted a new contract for actors in television entertainment films, ending a 12-day strike. The actors voted 735 to 307 last night to end the strike.

Spokesmen for both the Guild and TV film producers said the agreement will give actors residual pay for second runs of filmed programs, a key issue in the dispute. Under the old contract the actors got a percentage of the original pay for third through sixth runs. The new contract, to run through March 31, 1960, provides for payment for second through sixth runs.

The residual payments will be 35 per cent of the minimum for second runs, 30 per cent for third runs and 25 per cent for subsequent showings through the sixth run.

Minimum pay rates: day players, formerly $70, now $80 a day; singers mouthing to playback, from $45 up to $50; stunt men and airplane pilots, raised from $100 to $115 a day; free lance contracts, from $250 to $285 a week.

In the past year, about a million people have received certificates in the American Red Cross water safety program.

Federal Aid Proposal Gets Sharp Protest

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—A proposal for emergency federal aid for school buildings drew a sharp protest today from the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, a taxpayers' organization.

The federal aid recommendation has been prepared by a council of citizens and educators to be presented next Monday to the Missouri White House Conference on Education here. If adopted, it would go to a National White House Conference in Washington Nov. 22 as Missouri's policy.

The Public Expenditure Survey said Missouri doesn't need federal help.

"Combined state and local resources could meet any conceivable need of the state," the survey said in a pamphlet mailed to conference delegates.

"It is simply not necessary for Missouri to call upon the federal government for help."

"It seems unlikely that a convincing showing could even be made for very much state aid. Missouri school districts are erecting school buildings at a remarkable pace. Each year many more million in bonds are voted for building over the previous year. School building contracts reported in 1954 for completion in 1955 totaled a record $41,747,534."

Urging that the recommendation be changed at next Monday's meeting, the survey charged it was based on "conflicting and incomplete information" and without public participation.

The taxpayers' group said any emergency federal aid would be a "foot in the door" leading eventually to federal control of school policies.

"Once federal funds become available," it said, "incentive to meet problems at the state and local level would tend to be supplanted by incentive to secure funds from the federal government."

The council which prepared the recommendation cited information gathered by questionnaires indicating Missouri's school building needs by 1960 would amount to about $185 million for some 8,000 new classrooms and other plant facilities to take care of 21,000 new pupils.

The council said many districts had reached the limit of their bonded indebtedness.

But the survey disagreed. It said higher tax assessments ordered by the State Tax Commission would automatically increase the bonding capacity of many districts.

And it added bonding capacity also could be increased in many areas by enlarging some of Missouri's almost 4,000 school districts.

Attacks School Plans As Being 'Mediocre'

FORT WAYNE, Ind., (AP)—A vice president of the AFL American Federation of Teachers said today the nation's public schools are educating for mediocrity and gifted students are being neglected.

Una's Parents Are Opposed About Schmidt

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Una Schmidt-Fine's own parents may be on opposite sides of the fence when Airman Daniel Schmidt fights for custody of the 2½-year-old son he has seen only once.

The 23-year-old gunner is one of 11 American airmen released recently by the Communist Chinese after 32 months in prison. In Schmidt's absence, his 20-year-old wife Una says, she married Alford Fine, 21, a logging worker, in the belief that the airman was dead.

Schmidt, through his Sacramento attorney, said "yesterday he intends to ask the courts for custody of his son Danny Jr. as well as a divorce."

The lawyer, Howard P. Welch, said the airman's determination to ask for the boy was seconded by Una's mother Mrs. Walter Ferguson, formerly of Boise, Idaho.

Mrs. Ferguson was quoted as saying she wanted to show her daughter that "her own flesh and blood" was in favor of seeing the boy with his father. Una's mother, who now lives in northern California's Tehama County, is staying with Schmidt here.

Una's father Ralph Howell, of Bruneau, Idaho, and his second wife, on the other hand, have given continuous support to Una since they joined her at her Sierra hide-away last week.

There has been no comment from Una other than a remark by her attorney Harold Berliner that she "would fight for her child as any mother would."

Along with the proposal for federal aid, next Monday's conference also will be asked to endorse the "foundation plan" for school financing, which goes before the voters at a special referendum election Oct. 4.

The Public Expenditure Survey already is supporting the foundation program and a proposed two-cent package tax on cigarettes to help finance it.

Instead of proposing federal aid, the survey said the conference could serve the cause of education better by throwing its full weight behind the foundation program and means of financing it.

Ike and David Will Try Their Fishing Luck

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—A small boy and his grandfather—President Eisenhower and 7-year-old David—were set to try their fishing luck together today.

For David, a snub-nosed miniature of the President, the fishing expedition high in the Rocky Mountains was something brand new. He never has cast a dry fly for trout before.

The President and David are living together in a new cottage, with all modern conveniences, at the mountain-rimmed ranch of Aksel Nielsen, an old Denver friend of Eisenhower. The new place is quite a contrast to the rustic cabin in which Eisenhower stayed during visits the last three summers.

There has been another big chance too. Nielsen has built a pond about an acre in size and stocked it with 412 rainbow trout weighing about a pound apiece. Mayor Charles Clayton of Fraser told newsmen Nielsen paid $1.25 a pound for the fish. Nearby St. Louis creek has also been well stocked.

Eisenhower and David plan to stay here until Sunday, then drive back to Denver to the home of the President's mother-in-law Mrs. John S. Doud. David probably will stay on there with his grandfather for awhile. The boy's home is at Ft. Belvoir, Va., near Washington.

On arrival in Fraser, the President got an enthusiastic welcome on this tiny village's main street, where just about the entire population of 330, plus vacationers in the area, turned out to wish him well. One grizzled old mountaineer touched off a hearty Eisenhower laugh in coming up with a 1956 re-election plug.

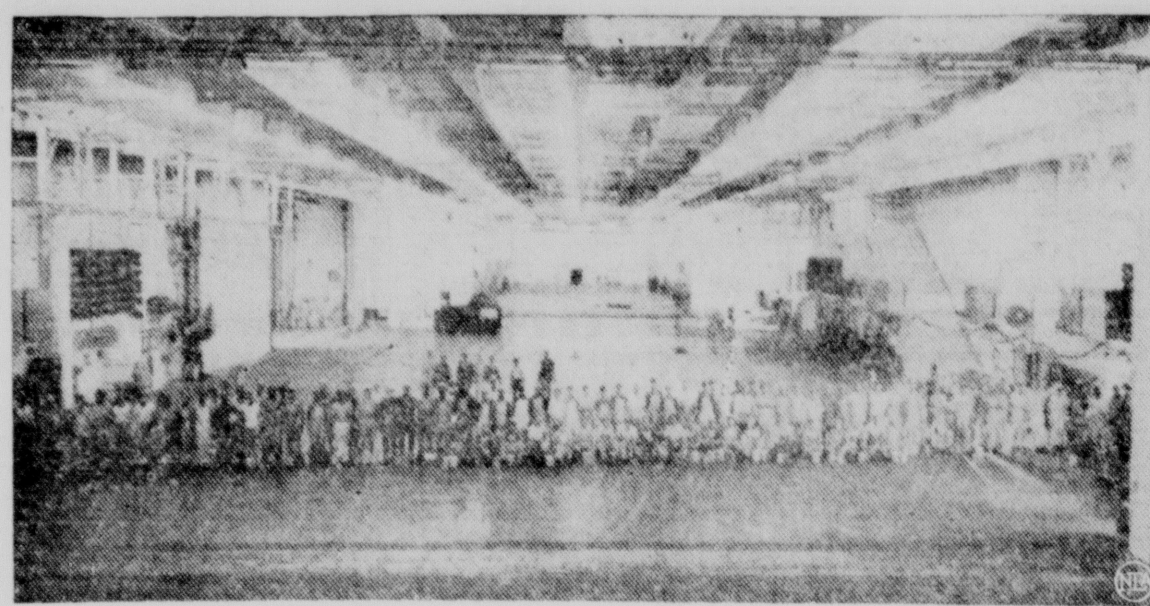

"You ought to run again," the old fellow boomed.

The President responded with a thumbs-up gesture, but said nothing.

At the ranch, the President lost no time getting at one of his favorite hobbies, cooking, in the robin's egg blue kitchen of the new cottage. On the electric stove he placed a big kettle of one of his specialty items, vegetable soup. He lets soup simmer three days before serving, so to cut down the waiting time here he got it started before leaving Denver and brought it along.

Jazz For Symphony
BALTIMORE (AP)—Symphony Conductor Massimo Freccia, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall.

On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theater stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra.

PLENTY OF ROOM AFLOAT—100 feet wide, hangar deck of the new, 1036-foot aircraft carrier USS Forrestal is said to be one of the largest unbroken, enclosed areas under cover ashore or afloat. Shipworkers of Newport News, Va., shipbuilding yards form a line-of-comparison across the huge expanse of deck, large enough to contain 18 full basketball courts or the entire population of a city of 40,000. The ship soon, to undergo builder's sea trials, will be commissioned October 1.

Independence Passes Bond Issue; Others Turn Down Proposals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A $10 million dollar bond proposal to expand the municipal light plant was approved by Independence voters yesterday, but residents of Liberty and Cape Girardeau turned down propositions in special elections.

Independence voters also endorsed two annexation proposals to increase the size of the city Jan. 1, 1956, from its present 10.33 square miles to 13.79 square miles.

The vote for the light plant bonds was 4,982 to 333. Residents also overwhelmingly approved the annexation proposals.

A proposal for a $165,000 municipal swimming pool at Cape Girardeau was rejected for the second time. The vote, 1,942 to 1,107, fell short by 190 votes of reaching the necessary two-thirds majority.

A similar proposition was turned down in 1949.

Six proposals calling for the issuance of $1,190,000 in bonds failed to win the approval of Liberty voters. The propositions would have provided water plant, sewer, street, fire and cemetery improvements. A two-third majority was required on all issues.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Actress' Father Dies

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Jonas Schmitt, 64, father of actress Shelley Winters, collapsed and died in his daughter's apartment last night. Police said the death apparently was from natural causes but an autopsy will be held.

Schmitt and his wife Rose came to California several years ago after living in St. Louis and Brooklyn.

Rock Bottom

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Department of Weights and Measures employe introduced a frozen chicken as evidence in Municipal Court. "This chicken sure seems hard," remarked attorney Myron Kammar.

"It should," quipped City Prosecutor Dick Curran. "It's a Plymouth Rock."

Look how much more Plymouth gives you at its low, low price compared to other cars in its field! More size, more comfort, since it's BIGGEST, ROOMIEST of all 3 low-price cars! More beauty, since it has the NEWEST STYLING of all 3! The TOP TWO ENGINES—the thrifty 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 or the mighty 167-hp Hy-Fire, most powerful of standard V-8's in the low-price 3. And remember, you would pay as much as $500 more for many "medium-price" cars actually smaller than Plymouth!

High sales volume for your dealer means a good deal for you—and Plymouth dealers have been smashing sales records this year! Trade now—your dealer is ready to give you the best possible allowance for your present car.
